

GREENCASTLE, IND.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, JUNE 10, 1857.

Republican Meeting.

On Saturday next, the 13th inst., the Republicans of Hendricks county, convene at Danville in a grand mass meeting. They invite their neighbors of other counties to participate with them. We hope a large number will go from Putnam. Hon. Oliver P. Morton and James F. Sait will be in attendance and address the audience.

Ex-Governor Wright, it is said, has actually received the appointment of Minister to Berlin.

A rumor was current in Washington on Saturday, that Ex-Governor Philip F. Thomas of Maryland, has been tendered the Governorship of Utah, and will accept.

Gen. Walker, the Nicaraguan filibuster, is now on his way to Washington City.

THE LIVE STOCK SALE.

The live stock market came off on Monday, the 1st inst., and attracted as usual a great many people. The folks commenced pouring in quite early, and the town was soon filled. There was on hand quite a large number of cattle, representing almost every possible grade, from bullocks weighing two thousand down to sucking calves. There was a large number of horses, but as prices did not meet the expectation of owners, but a small portion were offered. Mules were well represented in numbers and quality, but as with horses, prices did not seem to answer the views of owners and many were held back and not offered. There were also fine lots of pigs on the ground, and a large list of miscellaneous articles, such as wagons, carriages, mowers and reapers.

To keep the readers of our paper properly posted in relation to prices, of the different kinds of live stock, we note the following particulars:

HORSES—No. 1, brought $71 00; 2, $105 00; 3, $85 00; 4, $141 00; 5, $50 00; 6, $100 00; 7, $120 00; 8, $136 00; 9, $130 00; 10, $110 00; 11, $100 00; 12, $115 00.

MULES—No. 1, one pair (2) $200 00; 2, one pair (2) $305 00; 3, one mule, $100 00; 4, three mules, $195 00; 5, four mules, $240 00.

CATTLE—Lot No. 1, two fat bullocks, $203 00; 2, two lean bullocks, $100 00; 3, eight three-year old steers, $176 40; 4, twenty-four yearling steers and heifers, $193 20; 5, one milch cow, $17 50; 6, one milch do, $18 00; 7, one milch do, $25 50; 8, two yearling steers, $30 00; 9, four cows, $85 00; 10, one bull calf, $50 00; 11, two steers, $27 00; 12, eight yearling steers, $72 40; 13, one cow and calf, $26 50; 14, ten two year olds, $142 50; 15, seven yearlings, $70 00; 16, one cow, $12 20; 17, nine three year old steers, $217 80; 18, nine three year old steers, $162 90; 19, three four year old steers, $95 25; 20, two steers, $35 50; 21, one cow, $18 50; 22, one cow, $16 50; 23, eight cows, $116 00.

There were many cattle sold not on the ground. Although our opportunity for knowing what was going on was very limited, yet we know of eighty steers sold at four dollars per hundred. Buyers and sellers meet here, (our stock men are always here,) and a great many cattle change hands that are not on the ground. But it is plain that owners loose by not bringing their cattle here to be sold. The fat cattle sold here on June 1st brought five dollars, whilst those sold on the owners' farms have only brought four dollars; upon every bullock weighing twelve hundred pounds, there is a clear gain (in bringing here to sell) of twelve dollars. We think the farmers hereafter will not be so ready to sell their fat cattle just before market day. Remember that the first Monday in July is market day again.

In addition to the articles already particularized, there was some pigs sold, and some chickens and turkeys.

SHEEP POCKET-PICKING.

The Urbans Chickens tells the following story, which we must believe, and yet it is very hard of deglutition:

A man went into a field to work, and hung his coat on the fence. A pet sheep in his flock abstracted his wallet from his pocket, broke the leather string around it, and eat up fourteen dollars in bank bills and a couple of promissory notes. On returning to his coat, and finding his wallet on the ground and his valuables gone, the squire immediately suspected the pet sheep as the thief, arrested and dispatched him, (though a great favorite of the family,) and in his pouch actually found the bank bills in a tolerable state of preservation. The bills were all of a small denomination, the largest being a three, and yet, strange to tell, but two of the ones were so badly injured as to be unfit for use. This, we believe, is the first instance we ever heard of a sheep stealing money, and he forfeited his life for its temerity.

Served him right, had no right to eat bank bills when grass was plenty!

WARNING TO TOBACCO CONSUMERS.

A letter from Kentucky says, that tobacco consumers are using prussic acid to give an almond flavor to the leaf, and in consequence of this poison, a number of smokers have lost the use of their lower limbs.

GREENCASTLE—WHAT OTHERS THINK.

The editor of the Danville "Bulletin," W. C. Green, Esq., and family recently visited our thriving little city. After returning, in giving a history of his "trip," among other things, the editor says:

"Greencastle was now at hand, and leaving the cars we took Buffington's 'bus,' and soon were pleasantly seated with our little family in a quiet and pleasant room in the Putnam House. During the evening we sauntered around town—called upon the quiet and gentlemanly editor of the Banner, found him in good spirits, with an unusual degree of urbanity—and the picture of what he prints—nice, genteel, healthy. The town of Greencastle is slightly situated on high ground, with commanding views on either side. There is a spirit of energy and pride exhibited by the citizens in building worthy of imitation, and which argues well to the stranger of the liberality and enterprise they possess. The old time-worn, dilapidated buildings which destroyed the beauty of the public square, are being removed and preparations for new ones are rapidly making. There is a fact about Greencastle that it would be well for Danville to consider. She has two railroads running into her—in both of which she subscribed liberally, and worked with all her might to secure their completion—never once looking back and fearing they never would be completed. But when dark hours would come upon the company, renewed her labors, whispered words of cheer and the works by extraordinary exertions were finished. The consequence was that travel was brought to and through the place—strangers saw it was an advantageous spot for this and that enterprise, and they sought it for a location; and now the town has some as good buildings, as enterprising men, and as thorough-going a community as can be found in any inland town in the west. Our stay at the Putnam House was made pleasant and agreeable by the kind attention of the host and hostess—mother and son—and we can but recommend it to the favorable consideration of those who may pass through the place."

In reference to the allusion made to our self and paper, in the above extract, modesty forbids that we should comment very extensively. We will, however, state, for the edification of those who have not had the exquisite pleasure of our acquaintance and who have never looked upon our beautiful "phiz" that everything therein contained is strictly true.

The Banner is not only "nice," but we are in addition being "genteel, healthy," the best looking editor in Western Indiana, excepting, alone, our friend Hudson, of the Terre-Haute Express. Not wishing to injure the matrimonial prospect of this gentleman we yield the palm to him in this particular, though, perhaps strictly speaking we should not do it. The matter, to say the least, is in doubt, and has been for a long time, but not wishing to raise an issue on a question of so delicate a nature and one of so much importance to the public, we cheerfully waive an investigation of the merits of the case for the present.

That there is beginning to be "a spirit of energy and pride exhibited by the citizens" of our place in building more tasteful mansions, as well as business-houses, is a fact which manifests itself to the observer in passing "around town." The spirit, too, and energy manifested by a number of our citizens, in aiding in the construction of the two Railroads running through our place is a matter of just commendation, and may well be cited to by the editor of the Bulletin as an incentive to action on the part of the citizens of Danville in enterprises of a similar character.

We thank brother Green for his favorable notice of our place, men and business, trusting that he may never have cause to retract anything he has said.

Counterblast Against Costly Dresses and Jewels.

The Pittsburgh Conference of the M. E. church, at its recent session, proposed the following resolution. It will probably have only a homeopathic effect:

"Resolved—That we look with the most decided disapprobation upon the practice now so prevalent among our people of the putting on of 'gold and costly apparel,' and the following the gaudy and fashionable novelties of the age, and recommend to the members of the M. E. church that propriety and simplicity of apparel which becometh men and women professing godliness."

MELANCHOLY ACCIDENT.
Mr. Charles F. Prather, a most excellent young man, employed as engineer, &c., at Grover, Griswold & Co.'s Foundry was killed at that establishment yesterday evening while working upon the smoothing-irons, and was holding one upon the wheel when it caught in the covering of the wheel and was carried up with great force and velocity in such a way as to strike him on the left side of the top of his head, cutting and tearing the scalp to a considerable extent and crushing in a large portion of the skull. It is supposed that the iron was carried round the wheel which was revolving with great rapidity. The covering of the wheel, to the surface of which the emery is glued, was torn entirely off.

Dr. Hitchcock was immediately called, and all that surgical skill and science could do, was done. The broken fragments of the skull were removed from the brain, but Mr. Prather lived only a few minutes.

Mr. Prather was a soldier in the Mexican war, and fought in Lieut. Kearney's company from the taking of Vera Cruz to the surrender of the city of Mexico. He was a gallant trooper and fought as becomes a brave soldier.

He leaves a wife, to whom he has been but recently married, to mourn his untimely fall.—Washington Express, 4th inst.

They dress cool down East. A lady being asked if she would not wear a bonnet to church, replied that she would not wear anything else.

HAWKINS, THE MURDERER.

Some weeks ago the Louisville Democrat published a brief account of the eventful career of Edward W. Hawkins, convicted of the murder of the two officers in Estill county, Ky. He paid the penalty of his high crime on Friday last, in the county where the murder was committed. The same day upon which the unfortunate man was hanged he wrote the following letter to the editors of the Democrat:

SAD VOICE FROM A DISHONORED GRAVE.

IRVING, Ky., May 29, 1857.—Messrs. Editors: I see in your last issue a piece styled "Incidents in the Life of a Felon," and as there are various inaccuracies in it, I wish to point them out to you, and hope you will correct them. I am a felon, it is true, and I am sentenced to death, which I imagine I shall this day pay. The 1st error is—that I am 22 years old; I will not be 21 years old until the 11th day of July next, (1857.) Your next error is—that all my wives are alive; alas, one of them, young, beautiful, and lovely as she was, committed suicide on account of the enormous deception I had practiced upon her. Your next error is—you say I am the grandson of Tom Harper; I have no connections of that name.

Your next error is—that you say I killed a commanding officer in the regular army; this is not true. Your next error is—that I number my murdered victims by the half dozen; I have only murdered four persons in my life. I have married the six women, as stated in your article. I have committed the many other felonies—and more than alluded to by you. I hope you will correct the above named errors, or give this piece a place in your paper. Your next error is—that you say I killed a commanding officer in the regular army; this is not true. I have written out a full and complete history of my life, from the age of ten years to the present time, which I have this day delivered to Hon. A. W. Quinn and others for publication, which I imagine will be published, and which is a true and carefully prepared history of all my crimes and other incidents of my unfortunate life, from ten years old to the present time, and, alas! to my sorrow and deep mortification, will exhibit more numerous and a greater degree of crime than was ever taken occasion (as my last effusion) to exhort the young and rising generation to read my awful history with care, and pray that they may steer around a fate similar to my awful condition. Very respectfully, your dying countryman. E. W. HAWKINS.

A MAN MURDERED BY A MOB.

For several months Monroe county, in this State, has been noted on account of some of her citizens, who are styled "Regulators," and who have taken it upon themselves to rid their vicinity of all suspicious characters. They have severely whipped more than a dozen persons. On Friday night of the 29th ult., they went to the house of Edward Bingham, near Sanford, with the intention of giving him an application of hickory whips "well laid on." It seems that they had previously given him notice that, if he did not leave within a certain time he would be severely dealt with. He refused to leave, and endeavored to defend himself with an ax. He fought desperately and it is supposed killed one of the party, but he was finally struck over the head with a club, which would have terminated his life, but he was afterward tied up and whipped to death.

We learn that six persons have been arrested, tried and acquitted.

This is a most disgraceful and shocking affair, and those engaged in it should be ferreted out and visited with the most severe penalty of the law.—Worthington Times.

ARREST FOR PIRACY.

WASHINGTON, May 26.—Jonathan S. Jenkins, U. S. Consul at Navigator's Island, was arrested yesterday afternoon, on the steps of the State Department, immediately after his interview with Assistant Secretary Appleton.

The warrant on which he was arrested was issued by Justice Goddard, on a charge of piracy, sworn to by Dr. Van Calupe, for seizing by force of arms, and selling a large amount of property, belonging to citizens of the United States, in the harbor of Apia.

It appears from papers filed in the Department that on his arrival there he formed a Court of Admiralty, styling himself Vice Commissioner, and appointed Assistant Judges, Marshall &c.

The property alleged to have been sacrificed amounted to about $70,000, while that belonging to V. B. Chapin & Co., and A. Van Camp, was valued at $100,000.

Mr. Jenkins was committed to jail to await a requisition from the Governor of New York, where the case must be tried, he having first touched the soil of that State in returning to this country.

THE NEWBURY TRAGEDY.

THE MURDERED WOMAN THE WIFE OF A FRENCH NEGRO.—Our readers recollect, doubtless, the excitement created some weeks ago by the discovery, at Newbury, N. Y., of the body of a female (young and handsome,) supposed to have been recently killed, and which was found by a French negro, named Thomas Brown, living at Lowell, Mass. It seems, after all, that the body of this beautiful white girl had an infusion of negro blood.

Though they had been married for several years, she never had any children. Her life, too, seems to have been disgraced by some irregularities. She having at one time left her husband, and lived with a man in New York city as his mistress.—Her maiden name was Catharine Ashbell, and she was a native of the Province of New Brunswick, where Brown married her in 1850. Just before her death she left her home in Lowell to go to New York to stand a trial for larceny, since which her husband heard nothing of her until the description of the dead body attracted his attention, and he wrote to the Governor of Newbury in regard to it. She seems to have been put out of the way by partners in crime, but nothing positive is yet known. Interrogatories are being made, which for the present are kept strictly private.

"Shall I help you to some of the tomatoes?" inquired a young exquisite of a venerable physician, as he sat opposite to him at one of his hotel tables.

"No sir, I thank you," replied the learned savant, "but I'll trouble you for some of the potatoes, if you please."

BLOODY TRAGEDY IN KENTUCKY.—FATHER AND SON SHOT.

A Fatal Communication and Misconception.

As the Lexington & Covington train was passing a couple of miles this side of Winchester, Kentucky, on Saturday, the body of a man was discovered lying near the road, and still a little farther on, another body lying in a similar condition was seen. The parties were Col. James Price, of Clark county, Ky., an old and esteemed citizen; and his son, a fine and promising young man. Both were found weltering in their blood, the father having received the contents of a double barrel loaded with buck shot, in the abdomen and lower part of his body, while the son had been shot through the body by a bullet from a revolver. Both were breathing when found, and it was hoped that the old gentleman may survive, although no hope is entertained of the recovery of the son. The particulars of this sanguinary affair, as we have been able to learn them, are as follows:

The lady of Colonel Price, under the name of "Molly Broom," is a contributor to the Ohio Farmer, and in a recent communication to that journal, she described a "bloody tragedy" which occurred in her neighborhood, from the mismanagement of those who head much domestic affliction and disastrous consequences had arisen. Unfortunately a neighbor named Gay, took the matter as intended for himself, and a few days since, meeting Colonel Price he demanded if he considered himself responsible for what his wife wrote. The Colonel who was unconscious of what he alluded to, replied in a rather jocular manner that he was not, and the parties separated upon apparently friendly terms. On Saturday morning Col. Price was riding on horseback at the spot above designated, his son, similarly mounted, being some distance behind, when he was intercepted by Gay, who carried a double-barreled gun which he discharged full at the Colonel, who fell from his horse, to all appearance dead. The son at this moment hastening to the spot, Gay drew a revolver, and again fired, with such fatal effect that the son also fell. After thus disposing of his victims, who were to all appearances dead, Gay made off, and at the present writing we are not advised whether he has yet been arrested. The foregoing was gleaned from the Colonel himself, who rallied sufficiently to relate the particulars of the murderous attack, as well as its probable cause.

MELANCHOLY OCCURRENCE.—SUICIDE INDUCED BY SLANDER.

A correspondent writing from Newport, Maine, under date of May 20, furnishes the following particulars of the sad death of a young lady:

Miss Mary Martin, a very pretty and intelligent young lady of about twenty years of age, committed suicide by drowning herself in the stream at Detroit, the town adjoining this. She invited a young lady friend to walk with her, and seating herself upon a log near the stream, she told her friend that she was about to drown herself, and the reasons for so doing. She took off all her jewelry, and gave it to the young lady, and then she went to the stream, and threw herself in.

She was found by a young man, who persuaded her to get out of the water, and told her that they would come down in the afternoon. They went down, but she refused to get out of the water, and she was found dead by her friend and dragged out of the stream a rod or two, but suddenly releasing her hold she ran and jumped in. Her friend gave the alarm, and a brother of Miss Martin came to her relief, but too late—she was extinct when her body was taken out. The cause of this melancholy suicide was slander. During the past winter, stories have been circulated to injure her character. She protested her innocence, and but a few weeks before, while walking near the place where she was drowned, with the young man to whom she was engaged, she said, (referring to her troubles,) "If I thought there were no happier days in store for me, I would jump in and drown myself." Miss Martin was a very pretty, modest and highly respectable young lady, and her untimely death is deeply regretted. I hope it will serve as a warning to those who are ever ready to circulate evil reports.

MAN WHIPPED TO DEATH.

We learn that a man by the name of Bingham was whipped to death near Palestine, in Monroe county, on Friday night last, by a band of men styling themselves "Regulators." It is supposed that one of the mob, a young man named Morgan, is also killed. He was struck on the head with an ax by Bingham, and as the young man could not be found, it was supposed he was killed.

We learn from a citizen of Monroe county that there was no charge against Bingham only that he was in the habit of drinking too much.

This is the second whipping affair that has taken place in Monroe county recently, a man at Smithville, who was suspected of being connected with counterfeits, having been severely whipped some few weeks since.

For some time borne rather a hard name, and from recent events we conclude that she justly bears a hard name.—Worthington Times.

GEN. WALKER AT NEW ORLEANS.

NEW ORLEANS, May 26th.—Gen. Walker's friends confidently assert that he will go back to Nicaragua in thirty days, where plenty of men and means. He and his staff attended, by invitation, Spaulding's Amphitheatre to-night. The house was densely crowded. He was cheered enthusiastically—the bands playing national airs.

Joseph Brennan, editor of the Times, died yesterday. His funeral to-day was largely attended.

"TURNED UP" AGAIN.—The notorious Andrew J. Findlay, implicated in the burning of the steamer Martha Washington, some years since, and whose trial took place at Helena, Ark. we see by the New Orleans Delta, was arrested in that city on the 20th ult., upon two separate charges of robbery—one to the amount of $700 and the other $400. Findlay was passing at the time under the assumed name of A. A. Stevens, and the Delta adds, has now a pretty fair prospect of doing the State some service at her "institution" at Baton Rouge.

RIOT AND BLOODSHED AT THE NATIONAL CAPITAL.

Collision Between the Baltimore "Plug-Uglies" and the U. S. Marines.

Six or Eight Persons Killed, and Twenty or Thirty Wounded.

(Special Dispatch to the N. Y. Daily Times.)

WASHINGTON, June 1.

Our city to-day has been the scene of the most intense excitement, riot and bloodshed. A gang of organized desperate rowdies, some fifty in number, called the "Plug-Uglies," arrived here this morning from Baltimore, for the purpose of defeating the Democratic ticket, and keeping naturalized citizens from the polls. They divided their forces and part of them made a demonstration at the First Precinct of the Fourth Ward, and another at the Second Ward polls. At the latter place their interference soon caused a row, and some fifteen or twenty shots were fired. A young man named John Ougeley was shot in the knee. The citizens of this ward then turned out with arms, and drove the rioters off.

At this time a desperate row had commenced at the First Precinct of the Fourth Ward. The "Plug-Uglies" being reinforced by a "Rip-Rap" and "Clunkers" of the city, a serious attack was made on the Anti-Know-Nothing voters with pistols, bowie-knives and stones, and they were driven from the polls.

R. B. Owens, one of the Commissioners, had his hand shattered by a pistol shot. A Klover received a spent ball in his forehead.

An Irishman was dreadfully beaten, so that his features could not be recognized, and several others received slight pistol-shot wounds.

Capt. Goddard, of the Police, had a strong force on the ground, but was driven back.

The Mayor called on the President for a military force. The "Plug-Uglies" repaired to the engine-house of the Annapolis Company, near the Navy-Yard, procured a small cannon or swivel, and marched to the battle ground. They were passed by two companies of U. S. Marines, under Capt. Tyler, also marching to the scene of riot, who were hailed with hoots and yells.

The "Plug-Uglies" drew up with their cannon in front of the market-house on K-street, fronting Seventh street. The Marines formed in on Seventh street.

The Mayor addressed the crowd, and ordered it to disperse. Word was sent to him that if the Marines did not leave the ground, a difficulty would take place.—An order was then given to charge, and the Marines took the cannon, amid a volley of pistol shots from the "Plug-Uglies."

The Marines returned the fire, principally directed to the North-west corner of the market-house. Five were killed and 17 were wounded.

Mr. Alston, a grocer, was shot dead. Thomas Wills, of Maryland, was mortally wounded.

A colored man, name unknown, was shot dead.

Col. Williams, of the Land Office, was shot in the arm.

Col. Deems, of the Land Office, was mortally wounded.

And old man, name unknown, was shot through the head, and fell dead.

A colored man, name unknown, was mortally wounded in the abdomen.

The cannon was captured, and the Marines then marched to the City Hall.

Some 35 musket shots of buck and ball were counted on the North-east corner of the building, and on the dry goods store adjoining, some as high as the second story. The stores were all closed on Seventh street, for six squares.

Twenty or thirty of the "Plug-Uglies" escaped on the 3 P. M. train for Baltimore, and quiet was restored.

It was then rumored that the "Plug-Uglies" had telegraphed to their chief to send reinforcements, when Col. Cooper, the Adjutant General, telegraphed for the Flying Artillery at Fort McHenry.

Eight o'clock P. M.—The Baltimore train is in. The Marines marched to the depot to receive the "Plug-Uglies," but it was ascertained that fifty had started, but none had arrived, owing to a want of finances. The Marines returned, and will remain under guard all night. The city is now quiet.

(From another Correspondent.)
The election riot here was caused by the invasion of the Baltimore "Plug-Uglies," who endeavored to prevent the Irish from voting. They took possession of the Seventh street and Second street polls.

After some fighting, the President, at the instance of the Mayor, ordered out the Marines. The reading of the riot act and proclamation had no effect.

The Know Nothings had a cannon to oppose the Marines, and volleys were fired on both sides, but the Marines finally charged and took the cannon.

There were eight killed and thirty wounded—some badly, and mostly on the side of the mob.

The President is determined to preserve the peace.

Washington Affairs.
WASHINGTON, June 6.—Colonel Charles Thomas, Assistant Quartermaster General, with a detachment of the Secretary of War, proceeded forthwith to the Department of the Interior to superintend the removal of the United States troops to the Government Reserve, within forty miles of Utah, where there is good pasturage. The Quartermaster's Department has been assiduously engaged on the subject for a week past.

The officers ordered to join the steam-frigate Mississippi, destined to the East Indies, are requested to report by July 1.

LOSS OF TREASURE.
CHARLESTON, S. C., May 27.—The Courier learns, by an arrival from Indian river, Florida, that on the 12th inst., Major Dashiell, paymaster for the army, in attempting to land from a schooner, came near drowning, and lost overboard $23,000 for the payment of the troops in Florida.

ROBBERY.—Two men robbed a store in Knightstown on Thursday or Friday evening, and were pursued to this city, where they were caught, but subsequently escaped. Officers were in pursuit of them on Saturday night, but we did not learn of their second arrest.—Indianapolis Journal.

17 Seth Kinnaman, the California hunter, has received an appointment for assisting to remove certain Indians on the Pacific Coast, at the salary of $1,500 per year.

THE T. H. &amp; R. R. R.—HOW IS IT?

About the middle of last April, I had a small box of Evergreens shipped from Fillmore, Ind., to Edgewood, Ill. The distance from Fillmore to Terre Haute is 40 miles, and the company's bill for transportation was Two Dollars; the distance from Terre Haute to Mattoon is about 60 miles, and the charge was Eighty one cents; from Mattoon to Edgewood the distance is about 40 miles, and the charge of company was Fifty four cents.

Now, how is it? How does it come to pass that the T. H. & R. R. R. Company charges me nearly four times as much, mile for mile, for transporting freight, as I am charged by either the T. H. & Alton Road, or the Illinois Central? Yes, I repeat, how is it? how does it come to pass? Is their charge in accordance with their published freight list? I ask but for information—information, which Mr. Peck, the Superintendent, to whom I wrote privately upon the subject, chooses to withhold from me. Surely this Terre Haute and Richmond Railroad company is a great congerer. W. M. Fillmore, Ind., June 1857.

Arrest of Murderers.

We have already noticed the atrocious murder in Taylor county of Henry Symson, a wealthy farmer. Nine arrests have been made—six white men and three negroes—and several others have been implicated. One of the clan, named Hunner, has made a full confession, and a part of the money ($780) had been recovered. It is supposed that some $3,000 was taken. The people are greatly enraged, and apprehensions exist that a mob will ensue, and the parties be hanged without trial. Symson was the father-in-law of William Howell, Esq., late a State Senator. Mr. Howell is prosecuting the accused. The examination has been going on for several days, and is still in progress. The names of the accused are—white men, three Shaggs, Despain, Thompson and Hunner. The negroes belong to Lloyd Thurman, Roberts, and one of Symson's own negroes.—Low Journal, 4th.

THE POWER OF ROMANISM IN THE UNITED STATES.

In the Catholic Kirchzeitung, of Cincinnati, published by Father Dertel, an article appeared lately, of the power of the Roman Catholic church in the United States. We extract the following:

"Any one who does undervalue the might and strength of the church in the United States, does find himself in a awful labyrinth.

"We have not alone seven archbishops, thirty-three bishops, one thousand seven hundred and four priests, unitedly in the service of the Pope and church, but we have likewise thirty-one colleges, thirty-seven academies, and one hundred and seventeen female seminaries, all founded by Jesuits, which threaten danger and destruction to American Know-Nothingism, American Radicalism, unbelief and disbelief. And the spiritual life, which, like a golden cord surrounds this forty-one diocese, and its apostolical Vicariates, and extends from the Atlantic to the silent waters of the Pacific ocean, and keeps an invisible, secret and magnetic combination with Rome.

"This hierarchy is a sure security that after many a contest the church will one day, victoriously triumph above all other sects of America.

"It is calculated that at this time there are above two millions of Roman Catholic citizens in the United States. These are all baptised and regular soldiers of the Lord, and at the first call they will advance and obey the command.

"Nobody will, then, undervalue the might of the catholic church in the United States. I will throw sand into nobody's eyes, and therefore declare publicly that the power and influence of the Catholic church is stronger than the multitude will believe. Whosoever doubts this, must either be blind or else is a fool."

We publish the above article, and give to all our readers the privilege of making their own comment.
